Hi Karlette!

Hope your holidays have been happy! Thanks for the update. Do you have a list of insurance that the FCHC will accept and a copy of the sliding fee scale they intend to utilize, please advise, thanks!

Subject: Primary Care and Maternity Transition Update

Season's Greetings,

As we prepare for the New Year, I have an update for you on the transition of primary care and maternity services from the Martin County Health Department to Florida Community Health Centers (FCHC).

FCHC has been granted approval by the Federal government for a "change of scope" allowing them to provide Adult Health, Pediatric Health and Pre-natal/Maternity care at the Martin County Health facility in Stuart.

The processing of the paperwork did take a bit longer than expected on the federal side, so the transition will go forward as of February 1, 2013. Our appointment schedule remains open through January, so all patients are covered.

We are working in partnership with FCHC staff as they set up office and clinic operations. The FCHC Clinic Manager, Joanne McLaughlin, is onsite in Stuart and is overseeing the details needed to get the facility up and running by February.

The Martin County Health Department will continue to provide Dental and Family Planning services as well as Disease Surveillance/Investigation and treatment including HIV/STD testing and outreach, Public Health Preparedness, Environmental Health, School Health, Healthy Start and WIC & Nutrition services.

New Martin County Health Department initiatives in the coming year include continued community partnerships to combat childhood obesity and to increase access to dental services to children without access. The MCHD will continue to work with County Emergency Management to strengthen our public health emergency response capabilities.

Please contact me if you have any additional questions.
